SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

John Moors Cabot was diplomatic representative in the Dominican Republic in the early 1930s and in Buenos Aires in the 1940s. He served as the United States Ambassador to Pakistan (1952-1953); to Colombia (1957-1959); to Brazil (1959-1961); and to Poland (1962-1965).

The papers of John Moors Cabot contain twenty-two rolls of microfilm that provide a record of more than 40 years in the diplomatic service. The papers include embassy correspondence, situation reports, and interviews with world leaders. Major events covered include the Dominican Republic coup of 1930 and the rise of Trujillo, unrest in Argentina and the election of Perón in 1946, the controversy over Yugoslav aid to Greek guerrillas in 1947, the Chinese Civil War and the Shanghai situation, the resignation of President Quadros in Brazil in 1961, and the outcome of the secret United States-Communist China talks held in Moscow in 1962.

These materials are a collection from the Edwin Ginn Library, The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, Medford, Massachusetts. The materials were edited by Robert Lester as a project of University Publication of America and published on microfilm in 1985. A small portion of the John Moors Cabot Papers was not filmed. This includes: news clippings; miscellaneous personal
