SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The 1st Infantry Division was sent to England in August 1942 and participated in the invasion of North Africa on November 8, 1942. The following year it was involved with the invasion of Sicily. After the end of the campaign in Sicily the Division returned to England and became one of the first U.S. units to land in Normandy on D-Day. For the remainder of the war the Division participated in the Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes-Alsace and Central Europe campaigns.

During their many months of combat duty, the organic units and staff sections which comprised the Division prepared extensive reports which described their activities. The original copies of these reports were sent to the War Department where they became part of the files of the Adjutant General's Office. The Departmental Records Branch of the Adjutant General's Office developed an elaborate arrangement scheme by which the records were organized.

In 1962, after the reports were transferred to the National Archives, the Archives staff microfilmed the records of the 1st Infantry Division. A copy of the film was sent to the Eisenhower Library in January 1964. It is not known if the film contains the complete records of the Division. Records of some components are very fragmentary and it is possible that additional records of the Division exist at the National Archives which are not on this microfilm.

Paper copies of a few items are also at the Eisenhower Library as part of the U.S. Army Unit Records collection. These items appear to be carbon copies of the after action reports which the Division staff retained among their office files in the field. Researchers should examine both sets of files to obtain as complete a record as possible of the activities of the Division.
